- Q 1. Describe nature & classification of enzyme.
- ① Enzyme is defined as the soluble organic compounds, protein in nature, colloidal in physical state, produced naturally in the living organisms, having highly specific catalytic activities.
- ② The term 'enzyme' was first introduced by Kuhno in 1878.
- Location :- Enzyme is distributed in the different structures of the cell. For ex, in the protein layer of plasma membrane, in the cytoplasmic matrix, within or upon the lipid layer of mitochondrial membrane.
- ③ Golgi bodies plays important role in the synthesis of enzymes.
- ④ Enzymes are proteins :- Most of the enzymes are simple or conjugated proteins. They show all properties of proteins which are as follows -
- Colloidal nature,
  - having their respective iso-electric points,
  - denatured by changes in pH or increase in temp,
  - have high molecular weight.
- ⑤ They are catalyst :- An enzyme changes only the rate of reaction, not the direction.
- ⑥ Enzymes itself remains unchanged at the end of the reaction.
- ⑦ Only a small amount of enzyme is required by a biological system for a complete reaction.
- ⑧ Most of the enzymes are characterised

OUTCOMES OF INTERNAL EXAMS

Assessment means a process of collecting and understanding the data related to a student. So that this data help in understanding the students learning about what they know and what they do not know. Also, internal assessment refers to the evaluation of the performance of students on the basis of their educational experiences. The internal assessment helps us to give credit in final exams. This also gives teachers an opportunity to evaluate the students and also helps in continuous learning.

Internal Exam gives feedback to teachers so that they can improve their teaching. And students have a chance to improve their external assessment grade by seeing internal assessment results. So, that student can improve their learning.

Moreover, students can develop their interests in study throughout the year. The students will be more attentive to studying in class. In addition, it reduces the fear of final Exams

Q.1 What is dihybrid ratio? Explain with example?

→ The ratio formed after crossing between two varieties of pea plants, which were differing in two pairs of contrasting characters, yielding dihybrids and at a time two contrasting characters had been considered in them is known as dihybrid ratio.

Mendel conducted experiments to study the inheritance pattern of two characters at a time. They selected shape of seed and colour of cotyledon as two character for experiment. They made a cross between homozygous yellow coloured cotyledon and round shaped seed of pea plants with another homozygous green coloured cotyledon and wrinkled seed of pea plants. These plants are the genotype YYRR for yellow colour of cotyledon and round shaped of seed of pea plants and genotype yyrr for green colour of cotyledon and wrinkled shape of seed of pea plants.
